So on Saturday 1 February, the Legend/Challenger line-up will pass the podium on Place McAuliffe at 8.53am, before heading to Vaux-sur-Sûre for the first RT. The start will be at 9.18am! After that, the crews will head for Léglise and Neufchâteau.

As for the 'Classic 65/Classic 50' group, they will begin the festivities with the RT Les Eoliennes, starting in the hamlet of Oubourcy, north of Bastogne. Start at 9.10 am.

An ever more powerful App!

The Legend Boucles @ Bastogne may be the crème de la crème of classic car events, but they are also distinguished by the impressive resources available to followers and fans to make sure they don't miss a thing of the race. The Legend Boucles application for the 2025 edition is as effective as ever. On the first page of the official programme, on sale from Friday at 4.30pm (marquee) for 15 euros, an iOS and Android QR Code can be scanned to download the app.

You can then follow the progress of the event, check the rankings and other information, etc.

But that's not all! By entering the code also available in the official programme (please note: one code per programme purchased and per smartphone or tablet), you can access the interactive digital part of the programme, with videos of the various RTs, photos of key locations (refreshment areas, show points, etc.) taken by a drone, various information on these RTs... and their route via Google Map, giving you easier access to the locations you have chosen. A system that works like a GPS for guidance, which will take you to the chosen point in the RT, wherever you are.

Last but not least, a live timetable update for each category will allow the public to find out the actual start time of each RT, depending on the ups and downs of the race.
